

Sydney Pettygrove Ph.D

Assistant Professor
1295 N. Martin A244
Campus POB: 245211
Tucson, AZ 85724
(520) 626-3704
sydneyp@u.arizona.edu

Research Interests:

Arizona Autism Spectrum Surveillance Program; Arizona Muscular Dystrophy Surveillance and Research Program.

Sydney Pettygrove, Ph.D., is an epidemiologist with expertise in the surveillance and epidemiology of birth defects and developmental disabilities, and environmental epidemiology. Dr. Pettygrove is currently the epidemiologist for the Arizona Developmental Disabilities Surveillance Program (ADDSP) and the Arizona Muscular Dystrophy Research and Surveillance Program (AMDSRP).

Publications:

C Rice, J Nicholas, J Baio, S Pettygrove, LC Lee, K Van Naarden Braun, N Doernberg, C Cunniff, C Newschaffer, FJ Meaney, J Charles, A Washington, L King, M Kolotos, K Mancilla, CA Mervis, L Carpenter, M Yeargin-Allsopp. Changes in Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) Prevalence in Four Areas of the United States. Submitted for publication.

CE Rice, J Baio, MJ Morrier, LD Wiggins, N Hobson, LC Lee, JS Nicholas, LA Carpenter and S Pettygrove. Changes in Diagnostic Testing Practices for the Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASDs) in Four US Populations. International Meeting for Autism Research Chicago, Illinois, USA, May 7-9, 2009.

CE Rice, J Baio, A Washington, JS Nicholas, L King, LC Lee and S Pettygrove. Age And Use Of The Early Classification Of The Autism Spectrum Disorders (Asds) In Multiple Areas Of The United States. International Meeting for Autism Research London, May 2008.